

BANGLADESH INTERNATIONAL TUTORIAL

CLASS: X, SUBJECT – ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Worksheet – II

Week – 2

A. Construct sentences with:

1. momentarily, momentarily
2. moral, morale
3. mythical, mythological
4. nationalize, naturalize
5. negligent, negligible
6. new, novel
7. observance, observation
8. official, officious
9. ordinance, ordnance
10. ostensible, ostentatious
11. overlay, overlie
12. overlook, oversee
13. parricide, patricide
14. pennant, pennon
15. persecute, prosecute

B. Rewrite the following sentences correctly punctuated, paying particular attention to the use of capital letters:

1. mrs helen macgregor lives in station road at number twenty-two.
2. the easiest way to get to heathrow airport by car is to travel along the north circular road.
3. during autumn if the weather remains fine john goes fishing every saturday.
4. she enjoyed watching thomas hardys tales from wessex on television.
5. the duke of devonshire represented the queen at the parade.
6. myra mason is appearing at the theatre royal drury lane in the new american musical bring on the girls.
7. the man cycled through north cheam on his way to the north.
8. the headmaster always takes assemblies on mondays.
9. the alsatian growled angrily at the gates of the park when arthur approached.
10. it was after the second world war that george orwell had his idea for his novel nineteen eighty-four.